

Wall Street Journal

03 March 2017

The Tax-Cut Fix for German Trade

Michael Heise / guest piece

Germany's current-account surplus, which rose to €266 billion ($281.83 billion) last year, is under international scrutiny. The country once again faces a procedure to rebalance its accounts with the European Union, while the Trump administration complains loudly about the allegedly damaging effects of the German surplus.

Link:

<https://www.wsj.com/articles/the-tax-cut-fix-for-german-trade-1488486571>