Kamesh Goyal appointed Head of Group Planning and Controlling at Allianz SE

On February 1, 2012, Kamesh Goyal will become Head of Group Planning and Controlling (GPC) at Allianz SE. GPC coordinates strategic business planning and monitors financial development for all Allianz units globally. Kamesh Goyal will be reporting directly to Oliver Bäte, Chief Financial Officer of Allianz SE. He succeeds Thomas Naumann, who will become Chief Financial Officer of Allianz Asset Management on January 1, 2012.

Kamesh Goyal is currently CEO of Allianz Asia-Pacific and before that was CEO at Bajaj Allianz in India and of the region Middle East and Northern Africa.

"I am very pleased to see Kamesh Goyal taking over Group Planning and Controlling," says Oliver Bäte. "His proven strategic leadership and operational track record have made him the first choice for this key group function. I would like to thank Thomas Naumann for almost five very successful years leading Group Planning and Controlling and I am grateful that we keep close ties in his new responsibility within Allianz Group."

A successor for Kamesh Goyal as Asia-Pacific CEO will be announced in due course.

About Allianz Group

Together with its customers and sales partners, Allianz is one of the strongest financial communities. More than 76 million private and corporate customers rely on Allianz's knowledge, global reach, capital strength and solidity to help them make the most of financial opportunities and to avoid and safeguard themselves against risks.

In 2010 151,000 employees in 70 countries achieved total revenue of 106.5 billion Euros and an operating profit of 8.2 billion Euros. Benefits for our customers reached 91.4 billion Euros.

This business success with insurance, asset management and assistance services is based increasingly on customer demand for crisis-proof financial solutions for an ageing society and the challenges of climate change. Transparency and integrity are key components of sustainable corporate governance at Allianz SE.
