

Allianz Climate Risk Award 2024

1. What does “all costs are covered” mean?

Allianz Re will cover a flight to and from Munich (arrival: one day before the event, departure: afternoon/evening on the same day of the event), transportation, hotel, one dinner and one lunch.

2. What does “researchers who have recently finished their research project are invited to apply” mean?

The Allianz Climate Risk Award is targeted to current PhD students and also postdoctoral researchers. PhD students and postdoctoral researchers who have recently finished their research or graduated no more than two years before the time of the application can also apply.

3. I have several research projects on the Allianz Climate Risk Award’s topic. Can I send several applications?

No, the same author/applicant can apply only once. Send us your best research.

4. I wrote my research paper together with a colleague/s, can I still apply?

In case of a group research project, the project lead or main author can apply as an individual applicant. Therefore, if the research project ends up being a finalist, the monetary award and travel expenses will be awarded to the individual applicant only.

5. If I am one of the finalists and I am invited to come to Munich, can I stay there a couple of more days?

You are welcome to stay longer in Munich to see the city. However, Allianz Re will only reimburse costs related to the one-day event in Munich.

6. Will Allianz Re help me with visa requirements, in case it is needed?

Allianz Re can provide the finalists with an official invitation letter that can be given to the relevant authorities. However, Allianz Re is not responsible for supporting with any other visa requirements or appointments.

7. Is the Allianz Climate Risk Award given only to European citizens?

No, the Allianz Climate Risk Award has a global reach. It does not matter where you are located in the world – what matters is the quality of your research project.

8. Is the Allianz Climate Risk Award also targeted to companies or institutions?

No, the Allianz Climate Risk Award is targeted to independent researchers only.

9. Will Allianz Re use my research for their own purposes?

Allianz Re shall use the research only for publication and advertisement purposes of the Climate Risk Award, for example in communication channels such as infographics on social media or an interview with the author on Allianz Re's own website. For further information please see the Terms & Conditions.
